

EU STRATEGY

FOR THE BALTIC SEA REGION:

A YEAR AFTER AND BEYOND

EDITORS: ŽANETA OZOLIŅA, IVETA REINHOLDE, TOMS ROSTOKS

Contents

Preface	7
In Place of an Introduction: Why the Baltic Sea Strategy? Toms Rostoks	9
Part I
In Search of New Models of Macro-Regional Governance
How to Govern the Strategy? Whether to Govern at all ... Iveta Reinholde	41
Designing National Governance for Macro-Regional Strategy Žaneta Ozoliņa	59
Communicating the EU Strategy for the Baltic Sea Region to Latvian Society Daina Bāra	90
Part II
From Strategy to Actions
Can the EU Strategy for the Baltic Sea Region Bridge the ‘Great Divide’? Alf Vanags	103
Free Movement of Knowledge in the Unified Baltic Knowledge Area – the Cornerstone for Implementation of the Strategy Edvīns Karnītis	120
Environmental Interactions: Humans, Nature and Politics Madara Pelnēna and Gatis Pelnēns	139

The EU Strategy for the Baltic Sea Region and Promises for Latvia's Energy Market Kārlis Bukovskis	158
* The Future of the Baltic Energy Market – Lessons Learned from the European Court of Justice Inese Stepiņa	187
The Employers' Perspective in the Baltic Sea Region – Looking for the Competitive Advantage in Diversity and Participation Elīna Egle	210
 Part III
The Strategy and the Future of Regional Organizations
The Strategy for the Baltic Region and the Regional Realities (an Attempt at Political Evaluation) Valdis Krastiņš	223
The Baltic Sea Strategy: Illusions and Perils Marika Laizāne-Jurkāne	233
The Baltic Sea Strategy and the Future of Europe Daunis Auers	248
 In Place of a Conclusion. Bringing the Debate Forward Reported by Inese Grumolte	265